The petition of Thomas Stewardson on behalf of himself and the other trustees for the estate of Samuel Caldwell, surviving partner of James Meese, bearing date Philadelphia, 5th Month 15th 1799, stated as follows, viz. That a certain John Collins had in consequence of fraudulent deeds pell, obtained patents for two certain tracts of land, one situate in the county of Northumberland, surveyed to Samuel Caldwell in purfuance of a warrant dated in 1774; and the other situate now in Luzerne county, surveyed to said Caldwell by a warrant also dated in 1774—and requested that patents might be granted, for the said tracts, to William Crammond, Edward Tilghman, John Ashley, and Thomas Stewardson, trustees of the estate of Samuel Caldwell, surviving partner of James Meese, as the said two tracts were part of the estate of Meese and Caldwell.

Whereupon the Board having considered the same, ordered that at least sixty days notice be given in one of the Philadelphia newspapers, and in the Lancaster Journal to the said Collius or his assigns, to appear before the Board on the first Monday in October next, to shew cause if any he or they have, why patents should not issue for the said two tracts to the said trustees agreeably to the prayer of the said petition.

Late Foreign Articles

VIA NEW-YORK.

By the brig Trio, arrived at New-York in 47 days from Liverpool.

LONDON, June 7.

It is reported that one of the Breſt fleet, Le Cenſeur, of 74 guns, foundered, and that only 24 of her crew got into Toulon.

His Highneſs Monſieur retured to Holyrood Houſe at ten o'clock on Wedneſday night, 29th ult.

The Police of Baden has publiſhed the depoſitions of the Coachmen who drove the French Dupuſies at the time of the aſſaſſination. It reſults, that the crime was perpetrated by ſome of the Huſſars of Szeckler; that the Miniſters were individually ſearched for, and attacked by them, and they added robbery to murder. Whether plunder, or private revenge, were the motive of this lamentable crime, it ſtill remains to prove. Jean Debry, in the miraculous diſorder of his ideas, has omitted to charge the Archduke Charles with the robbery.

From the London Gazette Extraordinary. Thurſday, June 6.

Downing-ſtreet, June 6, 1799.

Diſpatches of which the following are extracts, have been received from Sir Morton Eden, K. B. and Lieutenant Colonel Robert Crauford, by the Right Hon. Lord Grenville, his Majeſty's Principal Secretary of State for the Foreign Department.

Extract of a letter from Sir Morton Eden, K. B. dated Vienna, May 23.

I have the honor of incloſing three Extraordinary Gazettes of this place, with the tranſlations, together with the tranſlation of an article in the Ordinary Gazette of yeſterday; and ſincerely congratulate your Lordſhip on the happy turn of affairs in the Grifons and the Little Cantons, which muſt contribute ſo eſſentially to the further ſucceſs of the campaign in Italy, and to greatly facilitate the operations of the Ruſſian army, which entered this country on the 15th inſt. and of that under the command of the Archduke Charles.

May 30.

We are told, that Miniſters have received ſome French papers, by which they learn that the Breſt fleet, ſo long the object of ſpeculation and ſearch, had ſafely paſſed the Gut of Gibraltar, and had actually arrived in the Bay of Toulon.

Private letters by the cartel from France, give poſitive aſſurances, that the efforts of the Directory, to excite an enthuſiaſm and fury againſt the Auſtrian Government on account of the aſſaſſination at Raſtadt, have wholly failed. The recital of that unfortunate deed has produced no ſenſation in the people, nor is the Government likely to derive from it any ſupport. The ſcandalous, the ſhallow attempt to implicate the Archduke in the crime, will not aid their views His Highneſs's character and noble actions place him above the ſuſpicion of the moſt weakened Republican, Monſieur's interview with his Majeſty is ſaid to have been for the purpoſe of delivering confidential letters from Louis XVIII. containing advices from Paris, favourable to a reſtoration of Monarchy in France.

Letters from the Continent mention that Lord Nelſon has landed a body of troops at Savona, on the Genoeſe territories.

The Emperor of Ruſſia keeps a formidable army in readineſs, to exact the neutrality of thoſe Powers who do not join the coalition.

The removal of General Suwarrow's headquarters to Pavia ſeems to announce that his plan is to attack the remains of Moreau's army, which, according to the conjectures of thoſe beſt verſed in military movements, has taken a ſtrong poſition upon the Bormida, or to advance on the ſide of Genoa, to prevent Macdonald from effecting a junction with Moreau. In this caſe, the only ſtep Macdonald can take, is to retreat by the coaſt, by the way of Corneigha; but then he muſt entirely abandon his baggage and artillery, for even the troops themſelves can only paſs one by one, and with the greateſt difficulty, Thus Moreau's army, deprived of 15,000 men from the South of Italy, and 10,000 men which Lacourbe ſent him from the Engadine, who are cut off by the capture of Novarra, is reduced to about 15,000 men; of courſe, he will be obliged to withdraw the garriſons from Modena, Vercelli, &c. and will be unable to leave ſtrong garriſons at Tortona, Aleſſandria, &c.

FRANCE.

COUNCIL OF FIVE HUNDRED.

26 Floreal, Mar 15.

Berlier made the following report, in the name of the Financial Commiſſion:—"In circumſtances leſs urgent than the preſent, it would have been ſufficient for your Commiſſion to furniſh you with the reſult of the report which was made to you yeſterday.—But when our wants are real, it would be a criminal inattention to be ſilent upon the inefficiency of the revenues, and not to occupy ourſelves immediately on the means for ſupplying the deficit. We have no other power over paſt depredations than to ſubmit them to a ſtrict enquiry. Would you believe that in the month of laſt Vendemiaire, before the requiſitioniſts and conſcripts were called into action, the accounts for the payment of the troops were calculated at the rate of 437,000 men in actual ſervice, without including the troops in Egypt and in Holland? Would you believe, that to complete the number of 68,000 cavalry, it was neceſſary to purchaſe 40,000 horſes? The Commiſſion would deem itſelf unworthy of your confidence, and guilty of treaſon againſt the nation, if it did not propoſe to you to demand of the Directory, by a meſſage, documents properly detailed, for the purpoſe of tracing the authors of ſo many calamities.—We have been informed by meſſages of the exiſtence of a conſiderable deficit. If the Directory wiſhes that the public ſervice ſhould be carried on, we alſo deſire it. From the inſtant at which the republican troops ſaw their valour betrayed—from the inſtant when intelligence of the execrable crime committed at Raſtadt by order of the Houſe of Auſtria, was announced throughout the republic—when a general cry was heard of "Vengeance! Men! Money!" numerous battalions were levied on all ſides and organized; but their courage would be impotent, if it were not to be rendered uſeful by pecuniary reſources. Shall we raiſe a war tax? The affirmative cannot be doubted. Shall this tax be impoſed on preſumed properties? Such a meaſure would be arbitrary and unjuſt. It would open the door to a number of recriminations, and complaints would experience delays, and its product would be uncertain and of little value. The tax impoſed by the neceſſity of war and national vengeance, which the commiſſion is about to ſubmit to you, is placed upon the following grounds:—

1. "There ſhall be raiſed a tenth by the livre in addition to the landed contribution. This reſource will produce 21 millions.

2. "There ſhall be raiſed a tenth by the livre in addition to the perſonal contribution which ſhall commence with the indigent claſs, but this addition ſhall be progreſſive and proportionate to the different claſſes of the perſons contributing. The product is eſtimated at 15 millions.

3. "The laſt rate made with reſpect to the contribution for doors and windows ſhall be doubled. The poor who have only two openings to their dwellings ſhall be excepted. The product is calculated at from 6 to 7 millions.

4. "Augmentation of a tenth by the livre on the regiſtering of articles. The amount 2 millions and a half for the remainder of the year.

5. "Augmentation of the duty on poſt letters. A letter taxed at 6 ſhall pay 9 ſous. The product 2 millions.

6. "Augmentation of the ſtamp duties. Amount 2 millions.

—Theſe branches of additional contribution do not riſe to any arbitrary meaſures, and will produce about 50 millions for the 7th year. But as this ſum does not complete that which is demanded by the Directory, it ſhall be filled up by a deduction of the ſalaries of public officers, and by œconomy and the retrenchment of all uſeleſs expences. The Commiſſion is engaged in attending with the greateſt vigilence to the laſt object. The country, threatened as it is, requires the exertion of all its reſources; but it is particularly by re-eſtabliſhing order and œconomy in all the branches of adminiſtration, that the public ſpirit will be enabled to ariſe with vigour from that kind of apathy into which it is plunged. When it ſhall thus be reſtored to its original energy, it will find every ſacrifice light, impoſed upon it by the ſafety of the State."—The Reporter then propoſed the following projects:—

1. "A Meſſage ſhall be ſent to the Directory demanding circumſtantial accounts of the Adminiſtration of the Ex-Miniſter Scherer, of the exaggeration of the expences of his Miniſtry during the firſt ſix months of the 7th year, and of the cauſes of the defect which exiſted in the nominal and actual force of the armies when hoſtilities were reſumed."

The queſtion was loudly called, and unanimouſly adopted.

2. "The Commiſſion charged with rendering an account of the reſponſibility of Miniſters, ſhall make its report within a decade."

The queſtion being called for by a great number of Members, the reſolution was alſo agreed to.

3. "All public and civil Officers, whoſe ſalary is beyond 3000 livres, ſhall be liable to a drawback of 5 per cent. for the firſt 3000 livres, and of 10 per cent. on the remainder."

This reſolution ſhall be applicable to the repreſentatives of the people, to the Members of the Directory, to the Members of the Diplomatic Body, to the Adminiſtrators, &c. With reſpect to inferior ſalaries, nothing ſhall take place derogatary from the exiſting laws. It was unanimouſly adopted.

The other projects are to be printed, and the diſcuſſion is to be opened after diſtribution of them.

Poulan Grandpre read the commencement of a report on the conduct of the Commiſſioners of the Treaſury during the 7th year, but the concluſion was adjourned till to-morrow.

Sitting of May 16.

A Meſſage from the Elders ſtated the election of Syeyes to replace Rewbell in the Directory. Out of 205 votes he had 103. The next to him were Citizens Duval, Gohier, Lambrechts, and Charles Lacroix.

Sitting of May 20.

After the appeal nominal for the inſtallation of the new Members, Jean Debry was choſen Preſident. On taking the oath of hatred to Royalty, he made a ſpeech, in which he affirmed that neither Prieſts nor fanatical peaſants were among the aſſaſſins of Raſtadt, but that they were Auſtrians ſet on by the Engliſh Government.—When he concluded, cries of Vengeance! Vengeance! and Vive la Republique! reſounded from all quarters of the hall.

Sitting of May 21.

Jean Debry declaring himſelf incapable, from the effect of his wounds, to deliver the funeral oration in honour of Roberjot and Bonnier, it was decreed that it ſhould be ſpoken by the Ex-Preſident.

COUNCIL OF ELDERS.

Sitting of May 13.

A Secretary read a Meſſage from the Directory tranſmitting a letter from Jean Debry, and giving freſh details concerning the aſſaſſination of the French Plenipotentiaries at Raſtadt, imputing that act to the Houſe of Auſtria.

Sitting of May 15.

An addreſs was read from the Republicans of Grenoble, lamenting the diſaſters experienced by the French armies in Italy, and denouncing General Scherer as the principal author of them. He is particularly accuſed in the following: "Legiſlators and Directors, the public voice accuſes the Ex-Miniſter of War, the Ex-General Scherer, as the cauſe of our calamities and our reverſes, firſt as Miniſter, and next as General. This man, as ſilly as he is cowardly, was found concealed in a farm at the time of the battle of the 5th of April, and he left it only at the moment, when the General of Artillery cauſed the guns to be fired againſt the houſes of the farms in which he thought there was a part of the Enemy's Army."

After a ſhort diſcuſſion, the Addreſs was referred to the Directory.

VIENNA, May 18.

Captain Vimmer of the regiment of Lobkowitz cavalry, arrived here yeſterday from Field Marſhal Suwarow, with the following account of his further operations:

As every account agreed that the enemy had only a ſmall garriſon in Tortona, Field Marſhal Suwarrow ordered Prince Pangrazion, who was at Pavia, to croſs the Po without delay with the advanced guard, conſiſting of a regiment of chaſſeurs, two battalions of grenadiers, two batalions of infantry and two regiments of Coſſacks, under the command of General Crekow.

They paſſed the river near Corveſino in barges and flat bottomed boats, and puſhed forward to Voghera. On reconnoitering, it was diſcovered that the enemy had ſtrengthened the garriſon of Tortona. In conſequence of which, General Karaiczay received orders to join the Prince, who croſſed the river with two battalions of the regiment of Frolich, two ſquadrons of Lobkowitzs' dragoons, and two of Karaiczay's, which paſſed the Scrivan near Caſtle Nuovo, and formed near Torré di Garroſole, between Tortona and Alexandria.

But the following day, having learned that Moreau was poſted near Alexandria, on the banks of the river, with the two diviſions of Victor and Grenier, and whatever force he had been able to collect from Turin and other places, the Field Marſhal reſolved to march with his whole army againſt Tortona.

The two diviſions, Zoph and Frolich, under the orders of the General of Cavalry Melas, marched from their camp at Caſal Puſterlengo to Plaiſance, where they paſſed the Po, after having previouſly carried the important poſt of Bovis (leaving there general Morzin, with three battalions and two ſquadrons) and encamped near Caſtle St. Giovanni. The following day they paſſed through Voghera, and the 9th arrived by Ponte Coronne at Tortona. At duſk the ſame day Major General Marquis Charlet attacked the gate of Vogera with two battalions of the regiment of Alvinczy, a reſerve of grenadiers, and a ſquadron of Lobkowitz, under the orders of Colonel Spanochi, and with the aſſiſtance of the inhabitants, who at heart are faithful to their king, the gate was forced notwithſtanding the fire from the citadel.—Thus fell the fortreſs of Tortona, the key of Piedmont.

The Ruſſian General, Prince Gortzakow, witneſſed their operation. The troops were received with ſhouts of joy by the inhabitants. The town was illuminated the whole night, and the next day (the 10th) High Maſs and Te Deum were ſung at the churches.

There were but few cannon in the town. The enemy, 700 ſtrong, have retired to the citadel, which is blockaded by 4 battalions, and the works are already begun.

The enemy left them 250 wounded or ſick 12 of whom are officers.

The army paſſed the Scrivia on the 10th, which was ſo rapid as to render it impoſſible to conſtruct a bridge. The men paſſed thro' the water up to their middle, and joined the Ruſſian advanced guard near Torré di Garroſole.

General Vukaſſovich advanced with his brigade beyond Novarra to Vercelli; and his advanced guard, under colonel Prince Charles of Rohan, took the important fortreſs of Ivrea, which ſecures to us the valley of Aoſt. Thirty pieces of cannon and a great quantity of ammunition were found in the place.

A detachment of the ſame corps has alſo taken 17 guns on the Lago Maggiore.

Colonel Prince Victor of Rohan puſhed forward with a corps of about 2000 men as far as the Lake of Como, where he took one gun boat, and obliged the enemy to burn two others.

Being ſupported by the peaſants, who take up arms every where, he has marched againſt a body of French who have retreated to the environs of Chiavenna. The Canton of Uri, and the diſtricts of Bellinzone, are alſo in inſurrection againſt the French.

Major Luzioni, who entered Piedmont with 30 huſſars, has armed all the peaſants who join our troops, and has already advanced by Dorra Paldea as far as Chivas, two poſts from Turin.

Colonel Straucli, detached from the Tyrol, with 5000 men, has penetrated into the valley of Brembona, and has driven the enemy from Mordegno. Major Fredigoni, of the Tyrolese chasseurs, with 800 men, is on his march from Edola to Tetano in the Valteline, against the enemy.

The Field Marshal hopes, that by means of those different operations, combined with those of Field Marshal Lieutenant Bellegade the enemy will be speedily driven from the Valteline.

Field Marshal Suwarrow has detached Field Marshal Lieutenant Otto, with 5000 infantry and 1500 horse, against General Montrichard, who is posted at Bologna.—This corps has already advanced as far as Modena, and the enemy has retired towards Ponti Trimoli. By this means our army will draw supplies from the fertile provinces of Ferrara, Bologna, and Modena, and at the same time the territory of Parma is wrested from the hands of the French.

Field Marshal Lieutenaut Kaim, with six battalions and four squadrons, joined the grand army before Tortona, after the reduction of Pizzighitone. General Hohenzollern was sent with four battalions to Milan, where are already six battalions, commanded by General Lattermann, with orders to press the siege of the castle of that city.

The four squadrons of cavalry being unnecessary for the siege, have received orders to reinforce the army of Piedmont.

May 29.

The Archduke Charles has sent by his first Lieutenant Leibrich de Spleny, an account, that Lieutenant General Hotze had, agreeably to the instructions he had received, attacked the passes of Lucien's Steig on the morning of the 14th inst. and had succeeded in taking possession of them, and made prisoners almost the whole of the 14th demi-brigade, and took 8 pieces of cannon.

Lieutenant General Hotze entertained great hopes that he should be able to take a great number of prisoners as he advanced, the enemy being still in the Pratigau, and our troops having already reached the bridge of Zollbrucke, which leads from the valley Pratigau to Core, where his Royal Highness presumes our troops had arrived on the 14th.

His Royal Highness will give as soon as possible the detail of this important operation.

May 21.

Captain Comte Caramelli, of the Emperor's regiment of Cuirassiers, arrived here this day as courier from his Royal Highness the Archduke Charles, with the particulars respecting the subsequent operations of Field Marshal Lieutenant Hotze in the Grisons.

The enemy's divisions, which had been driven to the mountains by Colonel Plunket and the column of General Heller, retreated to Furna, in the design of escaping either by Zizers or by Coire. But finding that Field Marshal Lieutenant Hotze occupied those two points, and that he had already posted two battalions in the latter, they surrendered themselves prisoners of war.

The Total of the prisoners amounts to 1000 privates, and 80 officers; a pair of colours has also been taken.

Besides this, in the pursuit after the affair of Lucienstieg on the 14th, we took four pieces of cannon and the demi-brigade already mentioned.

Field Marshal Lieutenant Hotze reconnoitred the enemy on the 13th near Richenau; at the same time he appeared in great force against Ragatz, where the enemy had 2000 men. This demonstration produced an engagement, and the enemy being obliged to retreat, burnt the bridge over the rivulet Pfefferer. We, however pursued them beyond Fettes; part of them were driven into the valley of Sargans, where an officer and 8 men were made prisoners.

We had a few men wounded. We took three more cannon from the enemy near Ragatz, which, with those already mentioned, makes 15 guns.

After this last attack, the enemy withdrew in the night between the 15th and 16th with such precipitation, and had lost so much ground, that when this account came away, Field-Marshal Hotze was already at Sargans; at the same time the Field Marshal Lieutenant received intelligence that Colonel Count St. Julien was at Lenz, and Field Marshal Lieut. Count Haddick at Feldsut.

The enemy is retiring on the side of Fusis, probably in order to join the camp at Reichenau, and to attempt to continue their retreat towards St. Gohard by the only road now left them, viz. Ilans and the Devil's Bridge. But as the Upper League of the Grisons was preparing to rise, Colonel Strauch closed the passage of Spligen, and Field Marshal Lieutenant Hotze that of Gunkels. It is also probable that Field Marshal Lieutenant count de Belllegarde will advance towards Coire and Fusis.—From all which it may be concluded that this corps of the enemy, consisting of 7000 men, is in a most critical situation, from which it will be extremely difficult to disengage itself.

In order to assist as much as possible Field Marshal Lieutenant Hotze, in the attack of Lucien's Steig, his Royal Highness the Archduke Charles made at the same time a demonstration towards the Rhine with such success, that a corps of the enemy of 17,000 men assembled near Schaffhausen were prevented from sending any detachment against Field Maeshal Lieut. Hotze.

It appears by accounts sent by Field Marshal Lieutenant Kosporh to his Royal Highness, that on the night of the 14th, Gen. Meerfeldt surprised the enemy's post at Dundenheim, and killed three officers and 60 grenadiers who resisted. One officer and four soldiers were made prisoners. We took also 14 horses.

Great wits jump, Bache, in the Aurora of the 29th, attempts to treat with ridicule the pointed facts, in the Roman History, which have been lately introduced into this Gazette, to illustrate the designs of the French, and shew that they, like the Romans aim at nothing short of universal domination. "Fenno, (he says) amuses his readers, with dry allusions to the lessons which he lately learned at school; these things are new in the Lad's memory, but he should also remember, that Cornelius Nepos, and Justin, have been read by all his readers, who have been boys." Bache, for this, and a thousand such strokes, deserves at least the credit of being true to the cause. Genet, when pressed by examples, and principles, drawn from Grotius, and Vattel, with an effrontery which was considered at the time to be peculiar to a Frenchman, replied, "I do not admit, against the acts of the republic, the authority, of such worm eaten and musty records." Bache in like manner replies, "I despise the authority of these school-boy histories." How strikingly these two personages, tally in their mode of criticism.

No. IV.

MR. FENNO,

I FLATTER myself that I shall be excused for adhering to the manner which I have prescribed to myself in answering the nameless writer against the Alms House; and that it will not be expected of me to deviate in order to gratify his precipitance, his spleen or his malevolence—suffice it once for all to assure him, that the pursuit though slow, shall be steady: his motives shall be traced, his views shall be developed, even his heart shall be annalysed, and if the component parts of that heart, shall appear to be malice and all uncharitableness, intermingled with low cunning, dissimulation and hypocrisy, he must excuse me for the exposure, remembering that I have followed, not provoked the enquiry. And with respect to "Simpleton," the ironmonger in Market-street, who has not yet recovered his mortification and chagrin at not having been flattered with a place in the management which his vanity and conceit led him to aim at, if he makes himself in future a prominent feature in this controversy, I will (by telling the story of the little hair trunk) make him as ridiculous as I think I shall succeed in making his friend odious; but this hint is merely intended as a word to the wise; if he will be prudent, I will be silent. He may now govern himself as he thinks proper.

In No. 3 I promised to make some observations upon a few of the publications against the Alms House, and if without intending to treat any of the author's remarks with neglect, I may be allowed to commence with his No. 5. I will make that paper the subject of my present animadversions.

The first paragraph of that number having been fully, and I hope satisfactorily answered in my No. 3, I will proceed to the second, in which that writer insinuates, that in consequence of the various prices at which the pay patients, as they are termed, sent under the authority of the guardians of the poor to the Pennsylvania Hospital have been from time to time received, during a period of three years, together with the number received without pay, makes a sum of 6,968 dollars and 3 cents given in charity to the city and district of Philadelphia, an expression that I shall in a future paper remark upon with some degree of freedom.

But in order that both he and I may be understood, the following is his statement.

	pay.	poor.	in all.		weeks.		cost.
1797	40	22	42	Report.	919	Inquiry.	922 16
1798	31	40	71		1420		1716 28
1799	21	27	48		1422		1682 53
	72	89	161		3763		4320 97

Then after stating what he makes the average, viz. 1 dollar and 15 cents, which by the bye, is within ten cents of a full compensation for the whole actual expence (their cloathing and funeral expences being a distinct charge) he goes on to observe as follows.

	Dolls.
3763 weeks at 3 dolls per week is	11,289
Deduct the above, which is all the hospital are to receive from you,	4,320 97
The balance will then be	6,968 3

given in charity to the city and liberties by the contributors.

Now, in order to make this balance against the Hospital, in favor of the Alms House, he states the actual expence for the whole period of '97, '98, and '99, at 3 dollars per week each. Is the actual expence 3 dolls. per week? Does any body believe it? For my own part, I should be glad to be referred to some more satisfactory document; than his assertion, before I admit the fact. I am rather inclined to believe that when we come to probe this business, it will appear that the increased price demanded from time to time by the Hospital, from the Alms House, for what were emphatically termed "pay patients," more, much more than covered the actual expence incurred by that institution, for the maintainance of both pay patients and those (the supports of which the writer impudently terms charitable gifts to the city and districts of Philadelphia) into the bargain. I am verily persuaded that instead of receiving any thing by way of charity from the Hospital, the managers of the Alms House for more than four years past, have been in the habit of considering the prices claimed by the Hospital for their pay patients, particularly the last price, viz. 3 dollars per week each, as exorbitantly and extravagantly overpaying them for all descriptions of paupers sent to that house. And I believe that a number from amongst them have been most conscientiously convinced, that unless the medical school was encouraged, and the Hospital or infirmary side of the Alms House rendered commodious and fitted for the reception and comfortable accommodation of sick paupers the greater part of the funds of the institution would pass into the coffers of the hospital, and be hardly sufficient to support the sick alone—I will illustrate.

Of 606 persons in the Alms House (and here I take the opportunity of thanking the gentleman for his correction—in copying I made them only 605) I have shewn that 261 were sick. Now, if the gentleman is correct in calling the establishment of an Hospital in the Alms House an absurdity, and he has certainly so called it—why then admitting that 41 of them should be added to the enormous number of 4 now in the Hospital gratis—the remaining 220 must be sent in as pay patients at 3 dollars per week. The account between the two institutions would then stand thus:

220 pay patients at 3 dollars per week each,	660
45 gratis would cost Hospital at the same rate,	135
Deduct	——
Actual weekly charge to alms house	525
Now multiply by 52 for the expence per ann.	52
	1050
	27,300

If this account be correct and I have not wilfully mis-stated it, the annual sum which would be due to the Pennsylvania Hospital, if their plan of taking the Alms House sick at 3 dollars a week was acceded to, would amount to the enormous sum of twenty seven thousand three hundred dollars, exclusive of cloathing and funeral charges; and this must inevitably and unavoidably be the case, if the hospital or infirmary side of the Alms House was to be abolished—let us then contemplate the additional sum that would be required for the support of the remaining 345 together with the usual and customary expence for pensions and distribution of wood out of doors, and I will ask, what probable sum would be adequate to the support of the poor belonging to the city and districts of Philadelphia.

If there ever was a man who doubted the propriety of establishing and rendering respectable the hospital, or infirmary, in the Alms House of Philadelphia, I think he will now have candor enough to change his opinion, and be ready to give the managers, (not only the present, but a long list of former ones) the praise and the credit so justly their due, for having honestly and firmly resisted the artful and persevering attempts of the Pennsylvania Hospital to destroy that part of their institution. But I fear, Mr. Fenno, that I am making this paper too long for your convenience; and having now conducted the war into the enemy's country, I will just inform my kind and friendly antagonist, that my intention is to continue it there for a paper or two to come—and leaving him to muse upon the discussion he has produced, I will for the present bid him most affectionately

ADIEU!

The price to subscribers will be 2 dolls. 75 cts. per volume, in boards, and 3 dolls. whole bound, but as the publisher does not intend to print many more than the number subscribed for, a considerable rise on the price may be expected to non-subscribers.

Each volume will contain about one third less of letter-press than the original edition; but, as the publisher is not yet enabled to determine the extent of the Private Journals, which he may be allowed to make public, he cannot ascertain the number of volumes which will comprise the work.

☞ Payments to be made on delivery of each volume.

Subscribers will have it at their option, either to subscribe for the whole of the Journals, up to the present time, or to those only of the Old Congress prior to the organization of the Federal Government.

IN all countries, the proceedings in the commencement of their governments, are lost in darkness and obscurity, owing to a carelessness, in the succeeding generation, to preserve the public records, and the attention of the nation, in those rude ages, being called off from their domestic concerns, to engage in wars and conquest. Of what infinite value would the laws of Alfred be, had they been transmitted to our days? Time, that destroys every thing, enhances the value of well authenticated public records, and renders them almost inestimable. It is hoped, that Americans will, therefore, chearfully contribute their assistance in transmitting to posterity the labours of their ancestors—founders of the Columbian nation.

 The work will certainly be advanced with expedition and promptitude. The following will show the support it has already acquired:

"The MEMORIAL of the Subscribers, Citizens, &c. of Philadelphia,

"Respectfully sheweth,

"That having, in our respective avocations, frequent occasions to recur to the Journals of Congress, we experience inconvenience by the scarcity of them: That we understand that Richard Folwell, printer, of Philadelphia, has had it in contemplation to print that public record; and that he hath obtained partial countenance from many individuals; but that he has delayed prosecuting the work, in expectation of encouragement from government, that may adequately indemnify him. We, therefore, respectfully solicit, as the publication is necessary to be disseminated among public bodies, that Congress will, in their wisdom, render him such additional encouragement, to that which he has obtained from private individuals, as to enable him to proceed with the work, so that your Memorialists may be enabled to purchase copies of that record for themselves.

By WILLIAM GIFFORD, ESQUIRE.

To which is prefixed,

A POETICAL EPISTLE TO THE AUTHOR

By an American Gentleman.

[In introducing this celebrated work to the Gentlemen and Ladies of America, I have endeavored to give it a dress proportioned to its distinguished merit, and to the taste of those for whose amusement and delight it is intended. No expence has been spared in the publication; and I flatter myself that the work does not yield either in paper or print, to any one ever published in America —— This edition has an advantage over some former ones, as it contains by way of notes, the minor productions of the author; and, it has an advantage over every other edition, in the Poetical Epistle, which is prefixed to it, and which must be extremely gratifying to every lover of literature in this country, as it is a proof that there are Americans who have the taste to admire, the justice to applaud, and the talents to rival the Geniuses of other nations.

☞ Some Copies have been sent on to Mr. Somerville, Maiden Lane, New York, also to Mr. Hill, Baltimore, and to Mr. Young, Charleston.

Copies will be sent to Boston and other places, as soon as occasions offer.]
